The grounds are beautifully landscaped with lush tropical foliage and surround a lawn, private pool and outdoor sitting areas. The home was designed by Burt Ives and remodeled by Spencer Leineweber, and includes four bedrooms and four baths.

The large living room, which opens onto a spacious covered outdoor living area, is perfect for both large and intimate gatherings. The master wing features a large bedroom with a walk-in closet and access to the pool and gardens, adjacent home office, and a private bath complete with soaking tub. The cheerful kitchen is filled with natural light that highlights granite countertops, and the great room includes a windowed nook overlooking the garden, built-in bookshelves, and access to the broad lanai.

Wood floors add to the spacious interior and large windows and ceiling fans take advantage of the scented island breezes that flow through the rooms.
